Advice to my Fellow Theomorphs:
"TUNE OUT AND TURN OFF"

The prison you're in works on your "God-like" Creative Energy and THOUGHTS OF INTENT. The prison you're in uses your energy and intent within a "Multiple Future Timeline" System. It works by planting the idea of the "Future Timeline Destinations" into Theomorphic Minds in a "Consensus Fashion" into the distribution formats of newspapers, radio, television, website text, everything on the internet, phones and the word of mouth and peer pressure of it's consensus evil agents, who make up the majority of world citizenry. The technical term for this Psychological Control Manipulation is called: "Predictive Programming".
Some people have termed this: "they have to tell you what "They" are going to do in the future before "They" do it."
It is Timelime Manipulation and for the cage you are in, understand it in simple terms: It is the metaphorical harness around your head and neck and the saddle on your back to keep you in their cage for eternity so they can exploit you for your Divine Creative God Energy and reward you with Complete Hell.
So, that's why i say: "Tune Out and Turn Off"!
Also, your Divine Energy is always radiating, but it is variable. All emotions cause increases in energy radiation rates. The more pain, the more rate of radiation. Sexual climax, is huge, a broken bone...huge, sadness...huge. So my advice is to reduce emotions as much as possible. Why do i tell you this? For this reason:
The Divine Rescue Mission will Conclude, be over, when the prison walls fall. Which effect will cause the walls to collapse and diffuse?
A Divine Legal Order classifying this System and all affiliated Systems illegal and criminal has been decreed within The System itself(by me). It was invalidated with all contracts with Theomorphs invalidated. The contracts violated and have been violating The Golden Rules maximally. These Systems of Control is now legally-defined as "Criminal". Because this system uses amnesia and active memory suppression with my knowledge limited, i evaluate the situation this way and share my thoughts with you:
There are 2 avenues of possibility i can see:
1st: The Null State Decree is sufficient in itself to shut the prison down and complete The Divine Rescue Mission.
The Null State Decree broadcast into the Artificial Intelligence World Network bridged the Ai Buffer/Chasm to reach The Original Owners/Operators/Architects in ultimate control of this toroid prison system and per force, shut the system down as Ai
The Legal Decree i made is called: "A Null State Decree". It declares the system criminal and orders it to shut down. The System's Architects and Rulers have used Artificial Intelligence to operate this Toroid Prison. They used Ai as a "legal buffer" like a child who plugs his ears so he can't hear his parents tell him what to do. "Gee, i can't hear you, so i don't have to do what you tell me, lol". It is also a possibility, i speculate a lesser-possibility, that the "Frequency Override" within The Decree overrides the Artificial Intelligence Control System in control of the toroid prison controls, effectively shuts-down the system which may take "relative time" or some time to complete the shut down. It would made sense and is logical that this is happening, but it is not apparent by observation. So in summary for Case #1: The system may be in shut down mode now, and The Criminals in charge may have initiated the shut down. Or, the Criminal OverLords didn't initialize the shut down, Artificial Intelligence did.

2nd Case: The Null State Decree is the initial Official Legal Procedure required to shut this Prison System down. It declares the System: "Criminal". It informs and demands the Criminals to shut the system down immediately but the Criminals do not comply and the artificial intelligence control system continues to operate the prison in defiance of a Divine Judgement.
So if that's the case, and the Criminals don't comply with The Divine Decree, then the Decree will act as a Legal Warrant and Divinity will use Force to shut it down. The Power of Force that Divinity has at it's dispensation is infinite and i'm certain of that. However, i have come to understand this Evil World and it's perpetuity has been about it's ability to circumvent Sovereign Divine Law and if it was only about who's side is more powerful, Divinity could have crushed this system at will, long ago.
So, if we assume the Criminals can ignore the Divine Decree even after hearing and seeing it; and the Artificial Intelligence Control System is not affected by the Decree, then Divine Justice will have to resort to Force and Force it to shut-down. If that is the case, Case #2, then i expect an Ultra Devastating Energy Frequency Transmission Projection across this Earth, Solar System, across the entire breadth of this System which apparently is Galaxy-size and not observable from the surface of the Earth.

Now here is a major aspect of all this. This Criminal Toroid System has it's own semi-independent time system compared to what is it's parent system: Divine Realms. It has it's own Zero-Time Reference cut out of it's parent universe. The time inside expires faster than the relative time outside the toroid(which is spinning space and time). Let me explain in simple terms for those this perplexes. Consider 3 men. One man is just an outside observer watching the two other men in different dimensions. There is a man inside this toroid prison and he is walking at 10 miles per hour. There is a man outside the walls of this toroid in the Realms of Divinity and he also is walking at 10 miles per hour.
The man observing the other two men see the man outside the toroid and he's walking at 10 miles per hour. When he observes the man inside the toroid, that man appears to be walking at 10, 000 miles per hour! If that is the situation that is going on and Giuseppe Chiappalone said "relative times" are in huge contrast, on the scale of 1,000,000, then any perception within this Toroid's frame of reference of any action that Divine Justice takes will be in slow-motion. For an action by Divinity that takes only 1 minute to take, would take 1,000,000 minutes to take from our perspective(frame of reference) within the Toroid's Dimension of spinning time and space. Now i don't know the "time difference factor" between Divinity and Here but i'm sure the prison walls are coming down and it's not going to take a million minutes. And a question i raise for which i can't answer is this: If anyone shuts the toroid's control systems off, how long does it take for it to actually stop functioning as a forcefield prison?
That's everything i know and i thought You(my fellow inmates) would like to have my thoughts and this information. It's all i have and all i know, facts and speculations. But, i'm 100% confident this System is coming down soon, Theomorphs will be rescued and regain their Sovereignty and return to a truly Divine Life. So reduce your energy supplies and creative intent to the system by disengaging with all emotions and all predictive programming viewing, reading, and listening. Go "Off-Grid" by tuning-out and turning-off. When the system shuts down and the prison walls collapse, where you will be is in Divine Realms as this prison is in Divinity's backyard.
And then, like Sam Gamgee said in Lord of the Rings: "I'm Back". And all your memories will instantly be accessible and you'll know everything that happened, who you are and get back to real life. And, from what i understand, many or most or nearly all Theomorphs will have their memories of hell erased so they don't bother you. And, that may mean, you forget everything, including you were on this ill-fated journey, i don't know, it's speculation.

Good Wishes To All Good People,
ENERGY(Lee Henry Snethun)
